Terminal 2

Written by David Payne

LGBTQ+ writer David Payne was one of the winners of the ITV1 sketch show Shoot The Writers. He was twice a finalist in Playwright at The Little Theatre and has had work showcased at The Hope Mill, Manchester and The Curve Theatre, Leicester. David has written short films and has two stage musicals currently in development. He has recently been commissioned to write his third play for Just Some Theatre following tours of his twisted comedy thrillers, The Killer Question and The Plot Thickens. He was part of the Birmingham Hippodrome New Musical Theatre Writer's Group and wrote an episode of the urban drama Seaview in association with the Coventry Belgrade. He also contributed to sketches for the CBBC comedy Class Dismissed, is a Producer and Director on The Archers and his first audio drama was broadcast on Radio 4 on New Year's Day 2026.

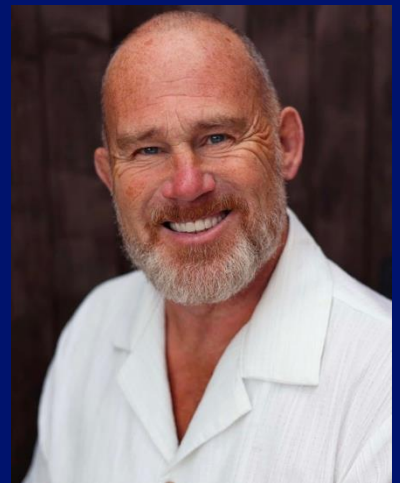

Janice Fryett plays Lynda

Janice trained as an actor in her late 50s and has appeared in many fringe theatre productions in the north-west and an off-West-End musical, The Jury. Terminal 2 is her fourth collaboration with David Payne. TV work has included a comedic role in Emmerdale, several TV commercials and short films. She was also featured in the BBC Eurovision trailer 2023 running down the street pushing a shopping trolley and shouting about cheese! Janice was a finalist in the BBC Norman Beaton Fellowship (radio drama performance) in 2025. Radio work includes playing Harriet Heighway in The Archers and presenting a Witness History programme on the BBC World Service. Janice can also be heard in her self-penned radio sitcom, Florrie & Dotty, and comedy drama, Sins of the Mothers, on Distinct Radio.

Allan Nicol plays George

Allan trained as an actor in his late 40s. His first TV credit was in the first series of Brassic. Since then he has had credits on Emmerdale, Coronation Street and Alma's Not Normal, plus numerous TV advertisements. He has appeared in numerous full-length movies including Creep (currently on Prime) and FortyTwo. Allan's stage work includes The Great Escape and Mom's World, all performed in north-west England. He has performed at Hope Mill Theatre and 53Two in Manchester and at Hope Street Theatre, Liverpool. This is his first collaboration with Janice Fryett and David Payne and he is excited to have taken over the role of George in this production
